

STATE HAS STRIKES
ON A LARGE SCALEFIVE HUNDRED MEN OUT IN GLENWOOD.

One Thousand Kenosha Workmen Carry Their Point and Wages Go Back to the Ante-Panic Figure—Big Struggle of Railway Hands in Arkansas.

Glenwood, Wis., July 22.—Five hundred employees of the Glenwood Manufacturing Company struck this morning for higher wages. The state board of arbitration probably will be called on to settle the strike.

Kenosha, July 22.—The strike of one thousand men at the mattress and wire works was settled today. The men have had all their demands granted, including the restoration of wages to the scale in force before the panic.

Little Rock, Ark., July 22.—There is a possibility that the next few weeks may witness the beginning of a struggle between capital and organized labor that will equal anything of the kind in the history of the labor question in the southwest. The opposing forces in the prospective struggle are the Gould system of railways and its vast army of employees. Briefly stated, there are indications that the Gould system intends to attempt to crush out all labor organizations now operating on its property.

A general order has been issued by J. A. Edison, superintendent of the Cotton Belt Line, abrogating the contract with the Order of Railway Telegraphers on July 28. This order in itself affects about 400 men. The reason given by Mr. Edison for the cancellation of the agreement was that the organization interfered with the discipline of the road, but the operators assert that the true reason for the cancellation is that the road intends to take advantage of the demoralization of the labor forces throughout the country growing out of last year's strikes to reduce wages all around. For this reason there is a very strong sentiment among all branches of railroad workmen in favor of giving the Cotton Belt operators all the support in their power in their present and prospective difficulties. Next Sunday is the time fixed for the cancellation of the contract. The railroad has so far shown no signs of receding from its position, and the sentiment among the operators is that a strike is almost inevitable.

CONVENTION CLOSSES.

Meeting of Baptists at Baltimore Brought to an End.

Baltimore, Md., July 22.—Sunday was Baptist day in all of the churches except those of the Protestant Episcopal and Catholic places of worship. An invitation had been extended to the members attending the convention to officiate in the various pulpits. These included the Methodist Episcopal, Methodist Protestant, Lutheran Reformed, Presbyterian, United Brethren, and in fact all Protestant denominations. There were in all 108 churches thus handed over, and these were filled to overflowing, making about the nearest approach to Christian unity ever seen in this country.

The meetings in the big tents were attended by enormous crowds, and the enthusiasm of the week day meetings seemed to be increased. At the evening meeting, John Chapman, the president of the Baptist Young People's Union of America, delivered the annual address. The address was punctuated with applause throughout its delivery. The consecration was a fitting climax to the convention. As the roll-call of states and provinces and missionary lands was proceeded with, each delegation in turn pledged itself to renewed exertions in behalf of the great work outlined by the union. It was after 10 o'clock when the convention adjourned sine die.

CRIME OF A SICILIAN.

Three Persons Dead, Two Will Die, and Others Are Wounded.

New Orleans, La., July 22.—Thirty-five miles north of this city, Friday night, a wholesale butchering was committed by a Sicilian laborer. His vengeance was taken on the family of a countryman, and the ferocity of his crime pales anything of the kind which has happened in South Louisiana in many years. He shot and killed three persons and seriously wounded four more, all of the same family. Rosario Giordano, who is the head of the exterminated family, says that he cannot account for the assault. He had quarreled with no one, and he was as much perplexed to learn the motive as he was surprised when the assassin stepped in at the front door Friday night and emptied a double-barreled shotgun into his little family circle.

Defaulting Treasurer Arrested.

Chicago, July 22.—Chester W. Rowe, defaulting treasurer of Poweshiek County, Iowa, left Montezuma, Iowa, on April 30, stating that he was going to Grinnell, Iowa. As he did not return when expected an investigation followed, which resulted in finding that some $30,000 or $35,000 of the county funds were missing. He was traced to Mexico and has been arrested.

Big Furniture Plant Burns.

Abler, Kas., July 22.—The Upshaw Furniture company's three-floor double store block burned yesterday morning, caused by spontaneous combustion among paint and varnish. It was the largest furniture establishment in Central Kansas. A small part of the stock was saved. Loss, $16,000, covered by insurance.

Forest Fires Break Out Again. Traverse City, Mich., July 22.—Fire broke out again in a swamp just south of the North Michigan Asylum grounds. A north wind is blowing it away from the asylum buildings, but it threatens farmers farther south. If the wind should turn south the asylum barns would be in danger. No rain yet and everything as dry as tinder.

INDIANS IN IDAHO ARE SURLY
Bannocks and Shoshones May Take the Warpath

Pocatello, Idaho, July 22.—Settlers in the Jackson's Hole country, in north-eastern Idaho and northwestern Wyoming, are in a panic over the reported imminence of an Indian outbreak. Disquieting rumors were confirmed last evening by J. C. Houtz, a wealthy ranchman of Soda Springs. He and one of his herders, while trying to cross Salt River to Houtz's ranch, seventy-five miles northeast of here, were stopped with rifles in the hands of Indian police. The police said the Indians had killed a white man, his wife, and child, and that the settlers had rallied and killed six Indians.

A week ago word was received at the Bannock agency, thirteen miles north of here, that several hundred Bannock and Shoshone Indians had come in conflict with the settlers, and all the available Indian police were sent out to bring the hunters back. Yesterday the wanderers arrived once more on their reservation, but they are far from being in as peaceable a frame of mind as when they left, for in a wagon were the bodies of four dead bucks and it is believed that there were bodies that were not found.

It has been given out all along that only one Indian was killed, and the trouble has been made light of as much as possible. There are, however, serious fears that the silent red men do not intend to submit as peaceably as it now appears to the killing of their warriors. White Bear, captain of the Indian police, admitted that he brought back the four dead bucks, and the trouble was regarded so seriously by Indian Agent Teters that he went to assist in starting the wayward hunters home.

The band of between 200 and 300 is in a surly mood. Of course, they talk little to white men, but one of the braves said they were only coming to the reservation to get more ammunition, and then they were going back to kill the white men.

This and similar threats fell on the homeward march have caused considerable uneasiness among those in authority, and unless the Indians return quietly to their homes Agent Teters will request that the Seventeenth Infantry, from Fort Russell, at Cheyenne, or the Eighth Cavalry, from Boise, be at once sent to this point.

The settlers in the vicinity of the recent trouble are very much disturbed over the condition of affairs and many of them are leaving their farms to get nearer to civilization or are banding together for protection. They complain most bitterly that the Indian hunters have no respect whatever for their rights or property; that crops are trodden under the feet of their ponies.

There has not been an Indian scare here since the ghost-dance trouble years ago. Although there is no apprehension felt in this immediate vicinity there is much uneasiness felt in the northeastern part of the state, lest the warriors, so long quiet, cannot be peaceably restrained in their present anger. There are 1,500 Bannock and Shoshone Indians on this reservation.

Troops Preparing to Move.

Lander, Wyo., July 22.—What is going on at Fort Washakie seems to be a military secret. Preparations are certainly going forward for some kind of a movement, but with only forty-two men at the post it will not be a formidable army. The people here are indignant that Fort Washakie has been neglected, but they have great faith in General Coppinger.

OUTLAWS BREAK JAIL.

Three Members of the Yeager Gang Escape to Their Confederates.

Wichita, Kas., July 22.—Three outlaws, two of whom were implicated in the Dover train robbery last spring, escaped Saturday night from the South End, Ok., jail and are on their way towards the Glass Mountains, where their confederates of the robbery, the Yeager gang, are known to be in hiding. When the jailer went into the jail about dark he was struck over the head with a piece of lead pipe, said to have been given to the prisoners by a woman, and rendered senseless. The jailer's wife gave the alarm, but owing to the darkness the citizens who went in pursuit could not make much headway. Horses were provided for the fugitives in the ravine north of town, but by whom is not known. There was $1,000 reward offered for the conviction of the criminals.

Severe Storm in Indiana.

Franklin, Ind., July 22.—One of the most severe storms that has visited this section passed over here on Saturday night, doing considerable damage. For twenty minutes rain fell in torrents and the wind blew a perfect gale. Shiloh church, three miles southwest of town, was lifted from its foundation and is beyond repair. The church was a frame structure and valued at $2,000.

HOLMES HAD A ROPE TO KILL VICTIMSMURDERER'S TOOL FOUND IN HIS HOUSE.

Police Are Turning Over Every Inch of Ground in the Englewood Cellar—Lincoln Farmer Shot Down on His Door Step—Two Murders Charged to Theodore Durant.

Chicago, July 22.—Detectives found a rope in Holmes' house today which is thought to have been used in killing victims.

Shot Down on His Doorstep.

Lincoln, Ill., July 22.—Lewis McAfee, one of the leading farmers of this county, was mysteriously murdered at his own home about 6 o'clock yesterday morning. It is supposed by a tramp. He lived ten minutes after being shot, dying without regaining consciousness. A large reward is offered for the apprehension of the murderer.

On Trial for Two Murders.

San Francisco, Cal., July 22.—Interest in the terrible Emanuel church murders, which shocked the whole world, is revived to-day by the trial of Theodore Durrant. Durrant and his attorneys say that an alibi can be proved that will shatter the case as soon as the taking of testimony begins. It is anticipated that there will be considerable difficulty in securing twelve men in San Francisco competent to decide Durrant's fate.

TALKERS HAD A LIVELY TILT

The Silver Legislation of 1873 is the Bone of Contention.

Chicago, July 22.—The Harvey-Horr debate was resumed Saturday afternoon. The question under discussion was the Congressional legislation of 1873. Mr. Harvey contended that the demonetization act was passed by fraud and his opponent warmly defended the action of Congress. Mr. Harvey asked the question:

"How dare you, when Allison declared the bill was doctored and Holman branded it a colossal swindle, say that it passed without the least suspicion of its integrity?"

Flushed in the face Mr. Horr sprang up with impetuosity and fairly shouted at the audience:

"The disease which you men have got always breaks out by running at the mouth, just as you run. It is one of the symptoms that attend the silver craze. If Harvey here wants to keep barking at that hole, let him still bark!"

Mr. Harvey answered amid an outburst of great applause:

"When you have failed to answer this arraignment by argument you cannot answer it by ridicule! The people will yet triumph over these modern Benedict Arnolds of America!"

Mr. Harvey opened the day's proceedings with these words:

"The debate so far is of value in this: It shows first, that gold and silver is the money of the constitution. 2. That the silver dollar of 37 1/4 grains of pure silver was the unit of value in our monetary system and regulated the other coins in our coinage system from 1792 to 1873. 3. That silver and gold in concurrent coinage was, until 1873, the standard and measure of values of all other property and the basic principle of our monetary system. 4. That prior to 1873 when one metal increased in exchange value over the other the debtor had the right to pay in the cheaper metal. 5. That silver was not demonetized by the act of 1873 on account of the overproduction of silver. 6. That $143,000,000 of silver was coined by our mints prior to 1873."

He renewed his charges of corruption among the members of the United States congress, quoting from the official proceedings of congress to show that there was an attempt to pass the bill through the house without its being read.

Mr. Horr, defending the passage of the bill, claimed that the measure had its birth in the monetary conference in Paris in June, 1867, which was attended by all the civilized nations of the earth. He said: "They had met together; they had discussed this question eight long days or sessions, and then, with the exception of Holland, every one of them had declared in favor of the gold standard. The bill of 1873 simply carried out a resolution of all these civilized nations of the world."

Mr. Harvey reiterated his charges that the bill was rushed through congress in an underhand way. He finished: "I now come nearer home for testimony. The Chicago Tribune of February 23, 1873, says: 'In 1873-74, as it was two years and more later discovered, the coinage of this silver dollar was forbidden by law. This act was done secretly and stealthily, to the profound ignorance of those who voted for it, and of the president who approved it; had, without the knowledge of the country, removed one of the landmarks of the government; had, under cover of darkness, abolished the constitutional dollar and had arbitrarily and to the immense injury of the people added heavily to every form of indebtedness, public and private.'"

Mr. Horr, after sketching the history of coinage from its earliest stages, asked this question: "Now, Brother Harvey, I want you to explain to the American people how it was that silver from the dawn of civilization to the present day has constantly been growing cheaper. Why is it that it has constantly been taking more silver to buy the same amount of gold? Tell us why the ratio between silver and gold did not always remain 1 to 1? I want him to explain how it happened that the more civilized a nation has become in the past the cheaper silver has been in that nation, and that in the country where there is little civilization, where their wages were low, where the people are poor, silver has been used rather than gold, and to explain to me why it is that to-day every civilized nation on the face of the earth has adopted the gold standard, and that the silver standard is only used in such countries as Mexico, Japan, China,

LESS MYSTERY IN THE CASE.

Deposition of Mrs. Scott Hayward Throws Light on the Stillwell Suit.

Chicago, July 22.—There seemed to be less of mystery surrounding the Stillwell murder after Mrs. Scott Hayward of this city finished her deposition in a libel suit Saturday. Mrs. Hayward said that she had lived in Hannibal at the time of the murder and knew the Stillwells. Six months before the murder, she said, Mrs. Stillwell, who is now the wife of Dr. Hearne, came to her and told her she was in love with the doctor, but wished him to cease paying his attentions to her. She asked Mrs. Hayward to tell him so.

The witness claimed Dr. Hearne told her of Mr. Stillwell's sudden return home on the occasion of one of his visits to the Stillwell residence. She claimed he told her there would have been trouble if he and Mr. Stillwell had met.

Illinois Legislative Prospects.

Springfield, Ill., July 22.—Interest in legislative circles for the coming week centers principally in the prospects for a bribery investigation. After that the joint Republican caucus to be held on Tuesday afternoon, and the outlook for an early adjournment are the topics of chief concern. It would not be surprising if there were a sine die adjournment this week. The arbitration bill is on third reading in the house and only needs a roll-call for its passage. It could easily be pushed through the senate this week if it is desired to do so. By close calculation the bill raising the tax levy can be passed this week.

THE QUEEN GOES TO OSBORNE.

London, July 22.—The Queen left for Osborne today. She is much in need of rest and will live very quietly.

DROWNED 148 PASSENGERS

Two Italian Steamers in Collision—An Investigation as to the Blame.

Genoa, July 22.—The Italian steamers Ortigia and Maria P. collided at the entrance of the Gulf of Genoa yesterday. The Maria P. sank and 148 persons were drowned.

The Maria P. was bound from Naples to La Plata. There was a crew of seven and the passengers numbered 173. She was calling here en route to her destination. She was entering the Gulf of Genoa when she met the Ortigia, outward bound. They noticed each other only when a collision was inevitable.

The bow of the Ortigia crashed into the starboard side of the Maria P., penetrating six yards and ripping up the Maria P. like matchwood. The water rushed in through the hole and the Maria P. sank in three minutes.

The majority of the passengers were asleep at the time of the accident, and had no time to escape after the alarm was given. They were engulfed with the vessel.

The sky was overcast at the time of the accident and there was little sea. Both captains were asleep, and Third Officer Revello was on watch on the Ortigia, and Second Officer D'Angelo was on watch on the Maria P. The Ortigia was going at the rate of eleven miles an hour and the Maria P. at eight miles. Each vessel saw the lights of the other and continued on its proper course till the mistake was made (it is not established by whom) which placed the Maria P. broadside to the Ortigia.

Third Officer Revello of the Ortigia saw the danger and ordered the engines reversed. But the order came too late. The Ortigia struck the Maria P., making an enormous gap in her side.

All the boats of the Ortigia were lowered and the crews rescued all whom they could of the survivors.

Captain Ferrara, who was saved, said that he was sleeping in his cabin when he was awakened by cries and shouts and a great noise. He rushed out upon the deck and saw the Ortigia backing off, while his own ship was sinking. Seeing that all was lost, he jumped into the sea, where he was picked up by the Ortigia's boat. They lost everything.

Second Officer D'Angelo of the Maria P., who was on watch on that ship when she was struck by the Ortigia, was drowned.

Among the saved is a child 8 years old, who is the only survivor of a family of seven who went down with the ill-fated ship.

The Ortigia remained on the spot until 6 o'clock, in order to pick up the survivors. She rescued fourteen of the crew and twenty-eight of the passengers of the Maria P.

The Ortigia's bow was smashed for a space of twelve feet along the water line. There is some comment upon the fact, brought to mind by the disaster, that the Ortigia once collided on the same spot with the French steamer Oncl Joseph.

At the conclusion of the sitting of the Chamber at Rome the minister of marine announced the news of the disaster in the midst of a profound sensation, adding that an officer, a seaman, stoker and 144 passengers on the Maria P. had perished. The Ortigia had twenty-five passengers on board. The Chamber has ordered an inquiry into the disaster.

PREJUDICE DISAPPEARING.

Significance of the Pan-American Congress at Toronto.

Toronto, Ontario, July 22.—A heavy rainfall just at the hour for the opening of Sunday's session of the Pan-American Congress kept a number of delegates away from Massey hall. Still there were 4,000 in attendance when Rev. Father Ryan opened the meeting. The chairman observed that the presence of delegates representing almost every religious denomination was significant of the fact that prejudice and bigotry were speedily disappearing. In the evening all of the city pulpits were occupied by delegates from the United States, many of whom referred in glowing terms to the quiet Toronto Sabbath.

"You citizens, it appears," said Mr. Bonney, "will not have Sunday street cars nor Sunday newspapers, and it is not only an honor to Toronto, but to your fair Dominion, and your example might well be emulated by nearly all of our large American business centers."

Fierce Fight with Robbers.

Mer Rouge, La., July 22.—Saturday was pay day at the Morehouse Lumber company's mill at Gallion, and after the laborers had received their wages, several, who resided some miles distant from the mill, were returning home in a wagon, when they were held up by three highwaymen, who tried to rob them. While the money was changing hands, a sheriff's posse, which had discovered the plans of the robbers, came up and the latter began firing. Charles Stuart, one of the highwaymen, was killed by the posse and Jack Coleman was mortally wounded. Another, Con Aldridge, is still at large.

Will Try to Settle Indian Trouble.

Omaha, Neb., July 22.—Wednesday Senators Thurston and Allen and five Nebraska congressmen will go to the Omaha reservation to attend the council of the Omaha tribe. The object of the trip is to get from the Indians their version of the troubles that have occurred on the reservation between the white settlers and the Indian agent. No ejections have been made by Agent Beck since he was served with the writ of injunction, issued by Judge Norris of the State court.

Two Thousand Men Employed.

Mascoutah, Ill., July 22.—Two hundred men employed in the Crown coal mine, on the Air Line Road, are on a strike on account of the discharge of a digger named Taylor. If the man is not reinstated the committee threaten to take out the 2,000 miners employed in the mines of St. Clair county.

DEFENDER AHEAD
BUT NOT SO MUCHFORTY FIVE SECONDS IN FRONT OF VIGILANT.

First Turn in the Race This Afternoon Showed the Syndicate Yacht to Be Flier But Not As Good As Hoped.

New York, July 22.—The defender made the first turn in the race this afternoon forty-five seconds ahead of the Vigilant. The second test seems likely to confirm the belief expressed by yachtsmen Saturday that if the Defender is being sailed to win she is very little faster than the Vigilant.

SENSATION AT A GRAVE.

Mrs. Emma Kinkead's Mother Began Forgiveness of Her Son-in-Law.

Nashville, Tenn., July 22.—The remains of Mrs. Emma Kinkead, who died such a violent death Wednesday afternoon, were interred at Mount Olivet in the presence of a large crowd. While the services were being performed, and while nearly every one present was shedding tears, Mrs. Warner, mother of the dead woman, suddenly threw her arms around Dr. Kinkead's neck and begged him to forgive her for everything she had said about his killing her daughter. She said she was now convinced that he was innocent. Then she turned to the other mourners and said she hoped they would never give credence to what she had said about her son-in-law. Dr. Kinkead exhibited the most profound grief and nobody now credits the stories that he killed his life.

May Renew the Cattlemen's War.

Rawlins, Wyo., July 22.—The trouble between the cattle and sheep men in Routt county, Colorado, is not settled by any means. The cattlemen are determined to prevent the sheep from grazing on through the summer range in the mountain foothills, while the sheepmen are just as determined to occupy their old ranges. Several of the largest sheep owners being among the oldest settlers in the country, claim that some of their bitterest enemies among the cattlemen are newcomers, small farmers and own few cattle.

Four Killed at a Crossing.

Williamstown, Mass., July 22.—Four men were instantly killed while crossing the Fitchburg railroad track about two miles from this place yesterday afternoon. A party of six men were riding in a two-seated covered carriage. They were returning to North Adams from Bennington and were struck by a west bound express. Two of the men, Clarence Prindle and Edward White, both of Williamstown, escaped by jumping.

Women Can Register in Utah.

Salt Lake, Utah, July 22.—At a meeting of the Utah commission a resolution was passed instructing the registrars to enroll all persons, regardless of sex,

COST A MINT OF CASH TO SHIP THE FLYERS

FAST HORSES LEAVE THE JANESVILLE TRACK.

Fifty Two Palace Stock Cars Were Used and the Total Expense Was About $2000—Stables Go To Detroit, Freeport and Galesburg—The Last Day's Racing.

It cost the horsemen about $2,000 to get their strings of animals out of Janesville, and fifty-two stock cars were used. Quite a crowd watched the loading of the flyers on the trains, and the switchmen at both roads were kept busy. Some of the palace cars are leased by the season, while others are just rented for the occasion. A special train in charge of Conductor William Neal left the city via the St. Paul road, at 9:30 Sunday night bound for Freeport, which town they reached at 11:05. Each car was estimated at a weight of 22,000 pounds, and were billed at the rate of $23 each. The longest trip was that of a car billed to Colonel Hill, at Dallas, Tex., the freight bill alone being $197.08. Three cars left for Joliet Saturday evening, while three left this morning for Waukesha and Berlin.

Some Go by Express.

With the express company the bills are different. They try and cut down the actual weight and each car, when loaded, is billed at an estimated weight of 10,000 pounds. Two cars left the city Saturday evening for Detroit carrying the horses of the Hill Stock Farm, the Colby, William Palmer and George Fuller horses. The expressage on the two cars alone was $400 which includes the carrying of the men along with the stables. The Colby stable goes from Detroit to Buffalo and consists of eight horses and eight men, among the flyers being Kate Phallamont who will go in the 2:17 class both places. Mr. Colby carries his own cook and boards his own men.

Ab Fullagar with the Keystone farm outfit went to Freeport, while H. Spencer's horses including Seal, 2:08½ went to Galesburg. A number of the horses that are still here go to Galesburg Wednesday.

Trotting Record Broken.

Klamath broke the trotting race record Saturday when he turned the track in 2:11½. He won the race in straight heats, second money going to Kentucky Union, third to Commodore Porter, and fourth to Jack. Maud C., whom many played to win, was unplaced, while Senator A. was drawn after the first heat.

Kolena surprised them all by winning the last three of the six heats trotted in the 2:22 class, she tiring her field out. Queen Allah, who was played as the favorite, got second money; Allie Gee, third; King Princeps, fourth; Abaddon, Eldredge, Arona, Drum Major, Maribel and Jerry W. being unplaced. The best time was 2:16½. The meeting was the most successful ever given in Janesville and was the best one held in the United States last week. No track has so far equalled the time made in one week—Joe Patchen's mile in 2:24½, Pearl C's mile in 2:11½, Afrite's 2:03½ and 2:11½, Prairie Lily's 2:11½, Frank Agan's 2:00½, Fido's three miles in 2:10, 2:11 and 2:10½, Baron Rogers 2:13½, Kate Phallamont's 2:14, Sir Edw. Arnold's 2:11½, Miss Williams' 2:10½ and Klamath's 2:12 and 2:11½.

CITY TO PAY SPRINKLING BILLS. Chang: Will Be Insisted Upon Next Year By the Water Company.

Next season the city must buy water for sprinkling streets, or the street sprinklers must go back to their primitive mode of filling from the river.

"The common council will have to take hold of this matter next season," said an officer of the water company. "The water company can furnish water for sprinkling at five cents per lineal foot front, and the council can award the contract for putting this water on the streets to the lowest bidder, assessing the cost to the property on each street, collecting the same as other taxes are collected."

The law passed at the last session of the legislature give a common council power, on petition of a majority of the property owners on any street, to cause the street to be sprinkled, assessing the cost to the property on the street, the contract to be awarded to the lowest bidder. Under such a system, it is said, the cost of sprinkling will be reduced at least one-half. Besides the whole street will be uniformly sprinkled, instead of alternate lots as done in many cases now.

Special Prices to Reduce Stock.

We have gone systematically to work to reduce our stock to get right in line for the coming fall business. You know we don't believe in carrying the stuff from one season to another, and are willing to take a loss to clean up stock and now we are cutting prices right and left on all summer goods. You will find it an advantage to come to us for goods for the next thirty days. Bort, Bailey & Co.

DR. EGO.

A Partial Record of His Wonderful Cures During the Past Week at the Park House—This is the First Time in the History of Janesville That Any Doctor Received Sworn Affidavits From People He Has Cured During the Past Week.

Neil Robery of this city, who has been suffering nine years with rheumatism in his entire body so badly that he could not bend his back or stoop over, was not able to work for nine years. He now states he feels like a young man of twenty-five years, although he is sixty-five years of age. Still another, Mrs. E. B. Dixon, of 68 Chatham street, has been suffering with rheumatic gout for eight years. She was so badly crippled that she had to use two canes, when she came to see the doctor. The lady assistant had to assist her in removing her shoes, and put her hat on for her. She could hardly walk. Now she is able to help herself. She can be seen at home, where she will gladly receive any one to consult her, and see how miraculously her life has been saved. Another wonderful cure: Mr. Kruse our well known ex-policeman, who is paralyzed in both legs and left shoulder and arm; he had no feeling in his limbs; you could stick a pin in him and he would not feel it, and his feet and legs were cold and numb. Now he can be seen walking the street using his limbs and arms as well as ever. He has only received four treatments. Still another happy man, Morris Stack, corner North and Palm streets, who has been a rheumatic sufferer for 25 years. The cords in his right leg were contracted over an inch and his wrist and arm were so badly affected that he could not use them. Dr. Ego has made him happy. Dr. Ego has many, many of our prominent citizens under his wonderful treatment. Now if you are suffering from rheumatism, paralysis, stomach, kidney or liver troubles, catarrh, or any disease of a private nature, of both sexes, go and consult him. All business strictly confidential.

Office in the Park House, hours 9 to 12, 1 to 5 and 7 to 9 p. m. Daily consultation and examination free, a friendly chat will cost you nothing. Go and see him. (Lady in attendance.) Dr. Ego and his staff of physicians will remain until Thursday eve, 25 inst. All who are suffering should not fail to consult this wonderful healer and specialist.

RICH MAN'S WILD SON HAS A FOOT CRUSHED

FRANK MCDONALD OF NEW YORK CRIPPLED FOR LIFE

He Fell Beneath the Wheels While Trying to Board a Moving Freight Train and Received Injuries That Resulted in Amputation—Beloit Man Accidentally Shot.

Frank McDonald, the nineteen year old son of a wealthy New York caterer, had his left foot so crushed by falling from a freight train at Milton Junction yesterday afternoon, that amputation was necessary. Now his home is at the county poor house, and his chief fear is that his parents will hear of his misfortune. It is the same old story. Young McDonald became dissatisfied with the parental system of government and decided to run away and see the country. He told his plans to Fred Smith, a young companion, and the two left New York together. Freight trains were their vehicles of travel, and the tour was of the genuine "hobo" kind. All went well until Milton Junction was reached, but when McDonald tried to jump on a moving freight train on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road he had his first bad luck. The train was going at a good rate of speed, but McDonald thought he could board it.

Fell Under The Train.

"Come on Fred," he called to his traveling companion, as he made a leap for the side of a box car, but a misstep caused him to lose his balance, and an instant later he lay bleeding beside the track while the brakemen ran from car to car setting the brakes and the reversed engine ground along the track. The heavy train came to a halt too late, however, and the cruel wheels had done their work. McDonald was picked up and physicians summoned. They found that nearly every bone in his foot had been crushed and splinters protruded from the flesh. It was apparent that amputation would be necessary, but McDonald protested in such a vigorous way that Dr. J. F. Pember of this city was summoned as counsel, but after consultation the foot was amputated just above the ankle. Poor master Kenyon then got a platform wagon and took McDonald to the poor farm.

His Parents Are Wealthy.

McDonald is a young man about nineteen or twenty years old, and says his parents reside in New York state. He refused to give any details, saying that he did not want his relatives to know that he had lost a limb. However, it was learned that his father was a wealthy business man and that he was the proprietor of a large restaurant in Gotham. Young McDonald tired of the restraint imposed on him and decided to travel. Then he and young Smith started out and had been beating their way ever since until their trip was cut short in such a painful manner. Today it was learned that the boy's father's name was James McDonald, 206 Fourth street, New York city, and Poormaster Kenyon at once wrote to Mr. McDonald, telling him of the accident that had befallen his son. Young Smith is with McDonald at the county house and is nursing his unfortunate partner.

Beloit Man Accidentally Shot.

Walter F. Wheeler, a resident of Beloit, and a brother of W. H. and C. E. Wheeler, water works contractors, started out into the county at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon. His dead body was found under a tree, near the roadside, with a frightful gunshot wound in the side. It is evident that his gun in falling from his carriage was discharged, the charge of shot taking effect in his body, and that he drove over a quarter of a mile after being wounded, then got out of his carriage, hitched his horse to a fence, lay down in the shade of a tree and expired. He leaves a widow and four small children.

THE CYCLERS PLAN FOR RACES

Next Arrow Club Matinee To Occur On Friday Evening.

The racing board of the Arrow Cycling club made plans for the matinee to be given at the driving park, Friday evening, at a meeting held at the club house, Saturday night, and decided to hold four events, the quarter mile open, one mile handicap, 2:50 class and five mile handicap. In each of the first three events there will be three prizes given, the value of the prize for each race being three dollars. In the last race, prizes to the amount of five dollars will be given while the board does not ask the merchants to donate any prizes, they will appreciate, fully, all favor extended along that line. The entries will close Friday noon. The circuit meeting was also discussed as it will be a big event, and riders from all over the state will compete. Donations are solicited for the event, which will probably occur in the latter part of August.

WHAT WHEELMEN ARE DOING

E. O. SMITH and Ed. Hayward started for Delavan yesterday, but while going at a good rate of speed down Main street, Smith's wheel collided with a dog, and he was thrown to the ground. His arm and hand were wrenched so badly that at Emerald Grove he had to turn back.

FRANK SANNER, Charles Bliss and Ross King rode to Delavan Sunday morning and were met by the Delavan Cycling club and escorted to the lake. They spent the day picnicking, and then, leaving the lake at 5:15, they made the twenty mile run home in 1:45.

E. EHLE and P. E. Frink, formerly of this city, and Henry Biscaglia, a Chicago boy, left Lincoln Park at 7:30 Sunday morning and reached Lake Geneva at 12:15. They left the lake at 3 o'clock, arriving here at 6:30 after a 119 mile spin.

A number of the members of the Arrow Cycling club, including Clayton Holmes, W. M. Pfennig, Albie Wheeler, Ned Whiton, Jr., John Whiffen and John McElroy took a ride to Clear Lake yesterday afternoon.

A NUMBER of Beloit cyclists including Bishop, Wilder and Barker rode into the city Saturday evening. They remained over night, returning home Sunday morning.

J. C. WILDER, of Beloit, arrived in the city Saturday evening, on his wheel. After stopping over night at the Grand, he left early Sunday morning, bound for Evansville.

BERT LINCOLN and Frank Ransom, who are among the youngest of the Arrow club track riders in point of experience, give promise of being two of the best.

GEORGE WIGGIN, who won the time medal in the road race at the traveling men's picnic, rode down from Evansville yesterday, and spent the day.

J. R. BROOKS and J. M. Keating, two Chicago cyclists, were in the city yesterday with their wheels, expecting to take in the surrounding country.

F. P. NAYLOR, a well known Chicago cyclist, and vice president of the Chicago Thistle Cycling club was in the city today on business.

A number of the members of the Rockford Cycling club, were at Delavan Lake yesterday, covering a total distance of 120 miles.

JAMES ROCT who is a sure stayer in a five mile race says he will make a few of the best of them take his dust at Friday's matinee.

THERE promises to be a few surprises at Friday's meeting in the way of dark horses especially in the five mile handicap.

BUT one tandem has been owned in the city this summer, and that was sent back by a local firm for want of a sale.

Miss Etta Hanchett's machine became tangled up with another bike Saturday evening, and was wrecked.

A NUMBER of Evansville cyclists passed through the city yesterday on their way to Beloit.

MR. and Mrs. J. D. Holmes took a spin to Clear Lake yesterday and spent the afternoon.

GEORGE H. OSGOOD took a ride to Milton Junction last evening just before dark.

LAUNDRIES DO A BIG BUSINESS

The Races Have Been the Cause of Many Large Washings.

Many local enterprises have been benefited by the races, and among them are the laundries. Their wagons were on the go all the time, trying to get their share of the business. As a rule most horsemen have their laundry ready for the wash about as soon as they land in a town. A talk with a local laundry proprietor developed the fact that out of eighty-four shirts gathered at the track, there were but eight "biled" ones. The majority of the horseman wear flannel. Laundries added extra help, one firm is employing eighteen people. Private families near the race track also took in work.

HAVE I GONE CRAZY ASKED THE WOMAN

CHIEF ACHESON ADVISES IN A DELICATE CASE.

Farmers Wife Comes to Janesville to Have Somebody Tell Her Whether She Seems Insane—The Chief of Police Suggests An Examination By a Doctor.

"Can you direct me to the best doctor in the city?"

A middle aged lady fired that question at Chief Acheson.

"Well, now, madam," replied the chief, who is always willing to impart information, "there are a number of 'good doctors' in the city, and really it is difficult to say which one is the best. A skilled physician has his office over yonder, another is located up stairs here, and there are half a dozen others within a stone's throw."

"Well, I want to consult the best physician in the city to ascertain if I am crazy. Is Dr.—— a good doctor?" Can you depend on what he says?" she asked.

"Certainly, madam," replied the chief.

"Well, I will go and consult him. Do you think I am crazy?"

"Well, no," said the chief, "but you will be better satisfied with Dr.——'s opinion than with mine."

The woman resides in the eastern part of the county, and evidently had received trouble of some kind that had nerved her to make a personal investigation of her own case.

TELEPHONE CREW ARE HUSTLING

The Long Distance Wires Will Soon Be In Working Order.

The telephone crew are now pushing the work on the long distance line. The gang of men known as the "ground men" who set in the poles, have finished their work with the exception of three miles between Beloit to Rockton. A crew of thirteen men have commenced putting up the cross-arms, and the wire stringing will come next. The whole job will probably be completed in three weeks. Foreman C. Grubsmith, who has had charge of the Janesville crew, has left for Ft. Atkinson, where he will have charge of the men who are remodeling the line at that city.

SUIT MONEY FOR MRS. WADSWORTH

Judge Bennett Grants an Order Compelling the Payment of $25.

Judge Bennett has granted an order in the action for divorce of Mary A. Wadsworth against Henry Wadsworth requiring the defendant to pay the plaintiff $25 suit money, and also to pay the plaintiff $12 a month pending the action. The plaintiff lives in Evansville and the defendant in Northville, New York. They were married in this city in 1869 but have not lived together for five years. Action for divorce was begun on this ground.

The Merry World at the Columbia.

No brighter show is running in Chicago today than "The Merry World." This is a burlesque of Madam Sans Gene, Madeline, Robin Hood, Rob Roy, Wang, the Little Trooper, Dr. Syntax and Trilby. Of these, by all odds the cleverest as well as at the present the most interesting, is the last. Best of all it succeeds in casting inoffensive ridicule upon its subject, and that is the purpose of the entire entertainment—indeed, the review ought properly to be called "The Ridiculous World."

SOME TELEPHONE LINEMEN QUIT

Force Is Crippled by Men Who "Got Sick of Their Jobs."

A number of the men employed in constructing the long distance lines of the Wisconsin Telephone Company, quit work this morning. There was no strike, but the men simply quit, appearing to be "sick of their jobs."

WORKING GIRLS. LING, ABLE, AND AMBITIOUS,

But Often Held Back by an Illness They do not Understand.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

A young and intelligent working-girl of Brooklyn, N.Y., graphically pictures the working-girl's life.

Day in and day out, month after month, she toils. She is the bread-winner of the family, and must work that others may live. Rain or shine, warm or cold, she must get to her place of employment sharp on time. With the sunshine and gladness all crushed out of her life, she goes on until she falls.

Oh! this picture only one of thousands. Some work in cramped positions, but the great majority of working girls, so to speak, live on their feet.

Among the latter the symptoms of female diseases are early manifested by weak and aching backs, pains in the lower limbs and lower part of the stomach. The "monthly period" is irregular: with some profuse, with others a cessation. The sure symptom, leucorrhoea, is present, and with faintness, weakness, loss of appetite and sleep. She may be sure that a womb trouble assails her. She knows not where to go for aid.

Miss Mary Smylie, of 2078 Susquehanna Avenue, Kensington, Philadelphia, Pa., urges her fellowworking-girls to have faith in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She says: "I am a working-girl, and must stand eleven hours every day. I have suffered terribly from painful menstruation and kidney trouble; and my head was so dizzy I could hardly see. I began to take your Lydia Pinkham's Compound some time ago. It was highly recommended to me by a friend. Now I feel like a different girl; no more aches and pains. I am praising it to every one. Our Druggist sells lots of it."

VARIOUS NOTES.

Pros and Cons of Massage Treatment.

So much stress is laid on the beneficial effects of massage that it may interest women who cannot afford to employ professional aid to know that many authorities consider the best as well as the simplest and least expensive form of massage is to strike the surface of the body sharply with the open hands. The chief objection is that the back and shoulders, which are often the parts that need treatment most, cannot be reached by the individual who owns them.

When any medical or hygienic theory attains the dimensions of a fad, there is usually something to be said upon the other side. Complaints are made that professional massage operators are sometimes rough and even brutal in their treatment of patients, doing positive harm instead of good by their manipulations. As the operators are usually strong, robust women, while many of the patients are slender and weakly, there would seem to be plausibility in this objection.

There are many curious superstitions connected with articles of wearing apparel. It is considered unlucky to pick up an old glove. A person who wears out the sole of his shoe in the center is born to be rich. To open an umbrella in the house is unlucky. For rats or mice to gnaw clothing is regarded as unlucky—as it well may be. A person who has his clothes mended while they are upon him will be the victim of untruthful reports. It is an evil omen to break a shoestring when starting upon a journey. To put on a garment wrong side out is unlucky.

It used to be a law in dress that widows who remarried should not wear white, but the idea of its inappropriateness seems to be gradually disappearing, and now frequently widows wear white, decorated with some color.

The pretty gown illustrated by today's sketch is of black net with applications of white lace. The full skirt is hung over a fashionably cut skirt of black faille and is adorned with lace butterflies and a border of lace insertion forming a braid pattern. The blouse corsage, of net over black silk, forms a large plait in front, which extends to the throat over a yoke of blue faille. The wrinkled collar and the girdle are of the same tint, the latter closing at the left side with a chou and long ends. A large butterfly is placed across the bosom, and smaller ones dot the net of the immense wrinkled sleeves. The hat, of red straw, is trimmed with changeable blue ribbon and bluetts in two tones.

SERVICEABLE COSTUMES.

Serge Bicycle Suits, Poplin and Alpaca Traveling Gowns.

There is a new cycling skirt. Its chief feature is the detachable panel. The front and back panels are buttoned to the side parts of the skirt, and a strap at each side, which fits the foot, keeps the skirt in place. When not riding, it is available for walking purposes by a simple rearrangement of buttons. This sensible and clever skirt is the design of a lady. It just touches the top of the boot, which is long and supporting.

Now that bloomers have come to stay, whether the skirt be worn with them or not, it is rather amusing to look back a year or so and recall what a fuss was made over their first adoption. There can be no doubt that they are vastly more proper for bicycling than petticoats of frilled muslin. Serge or other hard twisted weaves of cloth are better for bicycle suits than flannel or soft weaves, for the latter catch and retain all the dust there is going, while the former shed at least a portion of it, besides being better in point of wear. It is a mistake to use too heavy goods, even for riding in cold weather. It is better to secure extra warmth by means of thicker underwear than to increase the weight of the outer attire.

Poplin and alpaca are worn this year and are eminently desirable on account of their lightness, stiffness (and therefore suitability to the present fad) and dusterproof qualities. For dust cloaks and traveling gowns they are most satisfactory, and as they are to be obtained in many grades they are within everybody's scope.

The traveling costume shown in the sketch is of French blue poplin. The skirt, which is plain, has very full godets. The blouse bodice is decorated with small gold buttons. The draped collar is of poplin, while the belt is of plaid silk. The gigot sleeves are tucked at the top and fastened at the wrists with gold buttons. Batiste collar and cuffs are worn. The hat is of straw trimmed with hortensias and blue and yellow glaze ribbon.

In Emma Willard's Memory.

The statue of Emma Willard, recently unveiled at Troy, N. Y., is said to be the first truly imposing statue of a woman to be erected in America. It is the work of Sculptor Alexander Doyle and is of heroic size. It represents Mrs. Willard at the age of 45, is cast in bronze and supported by a granite pedestal and was erected by her pupils and friends.

A Generous Educator.

Charles C. Harrison, who recently gave $500,000 to the University of Pennsylvania in memory of his father, is provost of the university. He was born in Philadelphia May 3, 1844. He was a grandson of John Harrison, a pioneer chemist of Philadelphia. In 1858 he entered the University of Pennsylv-

A Notable Golden Wedding.

Mrs. Mary A. Livermore, the famous temperance reformer and woman suffragist, and her husband, Rev. Daniel Parker Livermore, recently celebrated their golden wedding at Melrose, a suburb of Boston. Mrs. Livermore was born in Boston Dec. 19, 1821, and at the age of 24 became the wife of the Rev. Mr. Livermore, who had begun his ministerial career at the age of 19. The tastes, habits of study and aims of the couple were alike, and for 50 years they have been congenial companions and coworkers.

The McCormick-Rockefeller Engagement.

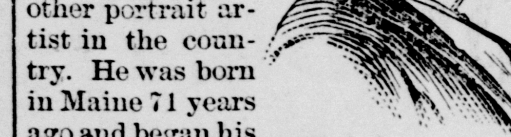

An interesting social topic is the engagement of Miss Edith Rockefeller, daughter of John Rockefeller, the Standard Oil magnate, and Mr. Harold McCormick of Chicago. Miss Rockefeller is one of the two wealthiest heiresses in this country—possibly the one in the world.

Eastman Johnson, the Artist.

Eastman Johnson, the artist who is engaged in painting a portrait of ex-President Benjamin Harrison for the presidential collection at the White House, has probably given sittings to more famous men and women than any other portrait artist in the country. He was born in Maine 71 years ago and began his artistic career at the age of 18. His reputation as a portrait artist and as a painter of genre pictures suggested by scenes in American life has steadily grown during the past 35 years. He has twice painted President Cleveland's portrait, and among his recent sitters have been Seth Low, General Miles, John D. Rockefeller, Philip D. Armour and others. Congress appropriated $2,500 to pay for the Harrison portrait.

Too Bad!

Mrs. Beresford Vanderbilt sat alone in her parlor on upper Fifth avenue.

"Theodore," she remarked to one of her flunkies who had been summoned into her majesty's presence. "Theodore, have you sent out the cards for the tea?"

"Yes, madam."

"No disappointments?"

"No, Mrs. Stevedore, Mrs. Vanaster, Mr. and Mrs. Vincerbilt, and all with one exception have promised to attend."

"Who is the exception, Theodore?"

"Mrs. Van Houser. We have just received word of her death."

"Then she will probably not be present," muttered Mrs. Vanderbilt, languidly. "How irritating!"—Truth.

Narcoti-Cure

CURES THE TOBACCO HABIT
IN 4 TO 10 DAYS
OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Use All the Tobacco You Want Till Your "Craving" is Gone.

Narcoti-Cure is the only remedy in the world that acts directly on the nerves and drives the nicotine from the system in four to ten days. It leaves the patient in better health than before taking, and is warranted free from all injurious ingredients.

Narcoti-Cure is popular because it allows the patient to use all the tobacco he wants while under treatment, or until the "craving" and "hankering" are gone. It is then no sacrifice to throw away tobacco forever.

Narcoti-Cure is sold at the uniform price of $5 a bottle, and one bottle cures.

Money refunded if a cure is not affected when taken according to directions.

IMPORTATIONS ARE HEAVY.

Importations for the first half of this year amounted to 20 per cent more than in the first half of 1894. Unfortunately, however, the duties imposed by the present tariff are very much lower than those of the tariff of 1890, so that while more goods come into the American market than under the foreign tariff law the treasury is getting less revenue from them. The articles on which largest gains are noted are those which come in competition with like articles of home manufacture. With an extraordinary demand due to the fact that stocks of goods throughout the country had become nearly exhausted American manufacturers have been enabled to resume production and continue it up to this time, even increasing wages and in some cases enlarging their facilities, but the question is, how long can they keep this up if the foreign competition goes on increasing at the rate of the last few months? With our own mills in full operation and European manufacturers pouring their goods into our markets it cannot be a very great time before the supply again outruns the demand, and there will have to be a curtailment of home production, labor thrown out of employment and wages reduced. This must be the inevitable result of the heavy and increasing importations, and while consumers may for a time be benefited by this sort of thing, in the long run it cannot be best for the country.

THE DOG PROBLEM.

It is estimated that there are five hundred superfluous dogs in this city; that is, dogs that are good for nothing; worthless curs that can neither hunt, watch nor perform service of any sort for their owners, if they have owners. Some scores of them are simply tramps—homeless vagabonds that wander over the city picking up a precarious living from the offal of back yards. The poor families are rare which do not share their food with dogs that render them no service in return.

Now it was mainly to get rid of this surplus dog population with the burdens it entails on the poor that we hoped to see the dog ordinance vigorously enforced at the time it was enacted, till this result was accomplished. The chief of police cannot be expected to devote much time to the work, but a public dog catcher would cost the city nothing if paid for his labor with a percentage of the fines collected, and he would rid the town of a good many snarling, yelping, howling, biting, useless curs. The rest that are good for something, would yield a handsome revenue to the city, besides being more easily subjected to sanitary regulations if these should prove to be necessary. This seems the rational, business-like solution of the dog question, and it is to be hoped the council may make this disposition of it.

TOLD IN BANK BOOKS.

That times are improving steadily is shown by the condition of banking institutions in all the northwestern centers. The line of deposits has dropped below those of 1893 and 1894, and has reached its normal level, while all financial houses are carrying a larger line of bills than they have for two years. Since the middle of May the flowing of money from these reservoirs into the channels of business has been going on. It shows that people have been withdrawing their deposits which were lying idle and are setting their savings at work again, willing to accept the risks of trade. It means that houses of all kinds feel that they are justified in extending their business and enlarging their lines of credits, where a year ago they believed in doing business within the narrowest compass. The explanation of this enterprise, of course, is confidence, a confidence that will not be shaken as long as a republican majority regulates law-making in Washington.

LEITER DOESN'T LOVE WILSON.

L. Z. Leiter is a good democrat and a good business man. His qualities as a business man make it hard for him to see much good in the democratic tariff tinkering. He says

"I look upon Mr. Wilson as foolish. A man must be foolish to have made such a tariff bill as he originally passed and which the president approved of. It would have made widespread ruin. No public enemy could have done us more harm than the Wilson tariff bill if passed."

WANTED TO BE A MAN.

The Young Woman Who Went to Chicago in Men's Clothing.

Miss Hettie Dickey, the young lady from Delaware who recently visited Chicago in men's clothing, has told the complete story of her adventures. It appears that for years she has had an overwhelming desire to be a man. The impulse to see the world as a man sees it grew upon her to such an extent that she finally decided to leave home. She secreted a suit of her brother's clothes in the woods, and soon after noon on March 24 she slipped quietly into the shed and put on masculine attire. Then she walked calmly out of the yard in front of her home to the road leading to Klamens station on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. It was then about 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon. She followed the tracks three miles without meeting anyone. Then two men came in sight, and, for fear of detection, she turned aside into a field and made her way to Newark, where she took the 3 o'clock train for Baltimore. By this time her parents were searching the country for her in the immediate vicinity of their home. Reaching Baltimore, she stopped for an hour. Then she bought a ticket to Chicago, and left on the 7 o'clock train over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. All the money she had on leaving home was $20. She reached Chicago on the night of March 26 with $3.48 in the pocket of her trousers. Her original intention was to go to Denver or San Francisco. In both of those places she has relatives. After her arrival in the Windy City she was at a loss to know where to lay her head. She was afraid to go to a lodging-house, so she concluded to walk the streets rather than run the risk of being detected. For two nights she tramped the sidewalks of Chicago before finding a place of shelter. At last she found a big lumber yard near the lake, and there she spent five nights among the piles of lumber. What little food she ate during this time she purchased at cheap restaurants. In all of these she seated herself at tables alongside men. For three nights she occupied a corner in a box car standing on a side track of the Illinois Central railroad. One of the employees discovered her and demanded an explanation of her presence. She maintained her fortitude and succeeded in escaping arrest. She went on in this way for two weeks until, overcome by exhaustion, she fell ill, and was removed to the Cook County Hospital. The incessant tramping and the clumsiness of her brother's shoes caused severe injuries to her feet. Upon removal of the shoes at the hospital flesh came off with them. A diagnosis of her case was made by the physicians in charge. While making an examination of her lungs he discovered her sex. She told him her name was Hettie Dickerson, but subsequently admitted that it was Hettie Dickey, and that her home was in Stanton, Del. After listening to her narrative the doctor notified her parents. On April 24, one month from the time of her disappearance, she wrote to her mother, describing her sufferings and asked forgiveness. She reached home a week ago, and, with the exception of a slight feebleness, she was none the worse for the experience.

LANGUAGE OF THE FLAGS.

What They Are Supposed to Represent in Death or Life.

To "strike the flag" is to lower the national colors in token of submission, says the School Journal. Flags are used as the symbol of rank and command, the officers using them being called flag officers. Such flags are square, to distinguish them from other banners. A "flag of truce" is a white flag displayed to an enemy to indicate a desire for a parley or consultation. The white flag is the sign of peace. After a battle parties from both sides often go out to the field to rescue the wounded or bury the dead, under the protection of a white flag. The red flag is a sign of defiance, and is often used by revolutionists. In our service it is a mark of danger, and shows a vessel to be receiving or discharging her powder. The black flag is the sign of piracy. The yellow flag shows a vessel to be at quarantine, and is the sign of contagious disease. A flag at half-mast means mourning. Fishing and other vessels return with a flag at half-mast to announce the loss or death of some of the men. Dipping a flag is lowering it slightly and then hoisting it again, to salute a vessel or fort. If the President of the United States goes aboard, the American flag is carried in the bows of his barge or hoisted at the main of the vessel on board of which he is.

Won in Regular Order.

The report of Nasrullah Khan's impression that, as the first race he saw at Epsom was won by the prince of Wales, while on the second the premier was triumphant, they arrange matters in this way on the turf in this country seems to be borrowed from what actually took place at the races near the monastery in the Crimea during the war there. A Judge of Faces.

Cecil Rhodes is a man of very simple tastes, remarkably unaffected, and plain-spoken. He has an iron will, but is soft-hearted, and is a philanthropic dreamer as well as a man of deeds. Mr. Rhodes judges men very quickly, and by their faces. By merely looking at a man once he can make up his mind what sort of a character he has to deal with. Once a friend wrote to him asking him to do something for a young man who was anxious to go to South Africa. The King of the Cape replied to this effect: "Send me his photograph and I'll let you know by return mail whether I can do anything for him or not."—Ex.

The Banking Power.

Recent statistics show that the total "banking power," as it is called, of the world is $4,000,000,000, or $20,000,000,000. Of this North America, mainly this country, controls $1,200,000,000, while all Europe, including Great Britain, France, Germany, Belgium, and the Netherlands, all the great "capitalist" nations, control but $2,300,000,000.

THE COCHINEAL CROP.

Insect a Singular Little Creature with Carmine Bodily Juices.

The cochineal insect is a fat, dark, spherical little creature, looking like a black currant, and with neither head, legs nor tail to the casual observer. In fact, he is so inanimate that anyone may squash him between finger and thumb without any qualms of conscience. He is nothing but a black currant, sure enough, though the bright carmine or lake exudes from his body, which serves him for blood and his for dye, is a better color than the juice of the currant. It was the cultivation of these pleasant little individuals which, more than a score of years ago, put no less than 40 per cent per annum upon investments into the pockets of the cultivators. Such prosperity was too good to last. The insect was not introduced into Tenerife until 1825, and for a time it could not be encouraged to propagate successfully. A priest had the honor of being the discoverer of the right method of nurture, and to him it is due that from 1845 to 1865 an annual crop of from two to six million pounds of cochineal was produced. A cochineal plantation has a singular aspect. The larvae, being very delicate and rather thick-witted, have to be tied upon the cactus plant, which is to be their nursery and their nourishment at the same time. Thus one sees hundreds of the shoots of the prickly pear—the cactus in question—all bandaged with white linen. In this way the insects keep warm and dry during the winter and induced to adhere to the plant itself. When they are full grown they are ruthlessly swept from their prickly quarters, shaken or baked to death or dried in the sun. The shriveled corpses are then packed in bags and sold as ripe merchandise at about $25 a hundredweight.

PRINCIPLES OF DYEING.

Interesting Observations Recently Set Forth by Dr. Knecht.

The textile organs give place to Dr. Knecht's observations on the philosophy and principles of dyeing, as recently set forth, emphasis being made on the well-known fact that various color solutions rise with a different speed and to a different height through the medium of inserted strips of filter paper, the difference being, in fact, so marked that a system of analysis has been built upon it. So, it is reasoned, a drop of aqueous solution spreads on a sheet of filter paper, forming a blotch surrounded by a colorless halo; the latter, surrounding a dot of magenta, being found to contain about half of the total hydrochloric acid present in the dyestuff, the fact of a chemical dissociation thus being evident. This dissociation, according to Dr. Knecht, is beforehand attributed to the chemical action of the cellulose, and in juxtaposition is placed the well-known fact that a solution of tannic acid and magenta may be mixed without precipitation, while tannin-mordanted cotton in the same bath will be at once charged with a color lake; further, as the phenomenon with the colorless halo does not take place with alcoholic nor concentrated aqueous color solutions, the water is supposed to actually dissociate dye haze and mineral acid, but the presence of cellulose is required to upset the equilibrium that existed up to then.

Unable to Oblige.

"Excuse me, sir," said the man in the row behind, "but would you mind asking your wife to remove her hat? I assure you that I cannot see a thing on the stage."

"I'd like to oblige you, sir, but it is impossible," said the man addressed. "We live out of town and we must get home to-night."

"What has that got to do with it?"

"What has that got to do with it? Why, our train goes twenty minutes after the end of the performance, and it takes her an hour to put that hat on."

12,809 PEOPLE RODE ON THE STREET CARS

RACE WEEK BUSINESS WAS A RECORD BREAKER.

It Was the Largest Crowd Handled Since the Line Was Built and Even Then More Could Have Been Carried—Other News of Interest Gathered on the Streets.

THE Janesville Street Railway Company carried 12,809 people to the races last week and did it easily. In fact it did not test the capacity of the line and Superintendent Proudfoot says they could have carried more people had there been more to ride. This was a larger business than the La Crosse line did, although the La Crosse superintendent had 29 cars at his disposal. The service at that city was very faulty, but in Janesville they didn't have a single hitch. The full power, five hundred volts, was used and five to ten men were hired. Beside this number of passengers many rode on passes and tickets. The week's business is summarized as follows, it being the best since the line was built: Sunday, 1,241 people; Monday, 1,566; Tuesday, 1,859; Wednesday, 2,307; Thursday, 2,287; Friday, 1,808 and Saturday, 1,741.

We treat all alike. The same measure of liberality to everybody. Our customers are all friends of our customers. Our interests are identical. If our customers are well treated and the prices are right and the shoes wear well our trade will increase and our success will be guaranteed. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

THE Chicago Times-Herald yesterday cartooned General Doe in the act of poking his finger into the Fox river to see what the result thereof would be. The Herald artist was evidently in the dark as to the general's personal appearance, for the picture was of a military gentleman with nine-inch whiskers.

HAZEL BRUSH THICK THERE IN BAILEY'S DAY.

Early Settler Comes Back to Find the Fourth Ward Much Changed and Property Too Valuable to Provide Yards For High School Children.

William Bailey of Duluth, spent Saturday and Sunday visiting old-time friends in this city. In 1861, when a mere boy, Mr. Bailey left Janesville, and this is his first visit since that time. However, he found a number of his old schoolmates still here, and rode around town looking for changes where he used to go to school in the old stone academy building, he found Lincoln school standing and was agreeably surprised at seeing the new High school building close by.

"What ever led them to put such a fine building on so small a lot?" he inquired.

When Mr. Bailey left, the handsome Hyatt house loomed up five stories high on the corner of Milwaukee and Franklin streets, and Janesville's board of trade occupied the site of the corn exchange fountain. The Myers house was not fully completed, and a lot of wooden rookeries surrounded it both on Main and Milwaukee streets. The old American house occupied the site of Court Street church, and court house park was a pasture for horses and cattle, the only building on the county plot being the little red brick building used for the register of deeds, and the old stone jail. When his home was on Locust street, a dense hazel thicket intervened between his home and the city, and Center avenue was lined with hazel brush and undergrowth much the same as a country road.

STEAM ONLY FOR EMERGENCIES

Captain Norcross Explains as to the Hall Furniture Factory Rumor.

Regarding the precautions taken to secure the city from interruptions in its lighting service, Captain Norcross writes:

EDITOR GAZETTE—On page two at the top of the column in your Saturday's issue, you print in large caps, "Dynamics to be run by steam power." Captain Norcross will use the Hall engine—City may be left in darkness, etc."

Will you kindly modify this statement, by putting in an equally public place in your daily issue, this statement, to-wit: I do not intend to run my dynamo by steam power, nor do I expect to use the engine at the Hall factory for lighting purposes. I have an abundant supply of water for all present uses and demands, without calling on the Fulton power, or any steam engine. When the additional city lamps are ready for use, I expect to place new dynamo at the Fulton power house.

P. NORCROSS. Captain Norcross states that he had had some talk about putting one extra dynamo at the Hall factory, to be used in case of an emergency for one circuit, but he does not expect such an emergency to arise.

IN RESPONSE TO THE FINAL CALL.

John Terwerda.

For the sixth time the death angel entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Terwerda who live on Judge M. M. Phelps's Seven Oaks Dairy farm, on Saturday evening and claimed one of their children. This time little Johnny was the victim and his life was cut short at the tender age of three and one-half years. Mr. and Terwerda are comparative strangers in Janesville, they coming here from Grand Rapids, Mich., last spring, but in their sad bereavement they have the hearty sympathy of all. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon.

Depended on Circumstances.

Pass—And of which variety is your wife, the clinging-vine or the self-assertive?

Cass—A little of both. When she wants a new dress or a new bonnet she generally begins in the clinging-vine role; if that doesn't bring the money then she changes to the self-assertive; and—well—she invariably gets the dress or the bonnet.—Boston Transcript.

Why He Loved His Father.

"Which do you love most, your papa or your mamma?"

Little Charlie—I love papa most.

Charlie's Mother—Why, Charlie, I am surprised at you; I thought you loved me most.

Charlie—Can't help it, mamma; we men have to hold together.—Jewish Times and Observer.

With Tears in Her Eyes.

She was thrown on the world. "Merciful heaven!" she gasped.

Considerable turf was knocked off the world where she struck it.

Before anybody could reach her she had risen and was swiftly leading her bicycle away.—Town Topics.

No Longer a Crime.

Tourist (in Oklahoma)—Horses are pretty cheap here nowadays, aren't they?

Alkali Ike—Cheap? They are so blamed cheap that when we capture a horse-thief we send him to the lunatic asylum instead of lynching him.—Pack.

A Born Detective.

Little Johnny—I know what the baby is going to be when he grows up. He's going to be a detective.

Mother—Of all things! Because he's so smart?

Little Johnny—No'm. Because he never sleeps.—N. Y. Weekly.

A Peculiar Fact.

"Keep out of debt, young man," said the philosopher. "People will think better of you for it."

"Perhaps," was the thoughtful reply; "and yet I've noticed that the more I owe people the gladder they always seem to see me."—Washington Star.

Artistic Appreciation.

Painter (with dignity)—I am an artist, madam.

Madam (effusively)—Oh, you poor man. Here's a quarter to buy you something to eat.—Detroit Free Press

A Doubt.

Shall emancipated woman. Home-coming at the dawn.

For fear of man who waits for her. Take her shoes off on the lawn?

—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

AND HOW EXPENSIVE.

Miss Antique—He sent me a bouquet, with a rose for each year, on my birthday.

Miss Caustique—What a large one it must have been.—N. Y. Recorder.

Had Experienced It.

Tramp—Do you know what it is, sir, to be shunned by all; to not have the grasp of a single friendly hand?

Stranger—Indeed I do. I'm a life insurance agent.—Judge.

Discarded Them.

"Miss Oldfield carries her years well, doesn't she?"

"You must bear in mind that she has thrown nearly half of them away."—Indianapolis Journal.

Next to His Heart.

She—Do you still treasure my photograph? The Colonel—Do I! I've had it set in my pocket flask.—Life.

WILL ASK THE CITY FOR FINANCIAL AID

HOSPITAL DIRECTORS TO PETITION THE COUNCIL.

They Wish Enough Municipal Help to Enable them to take Care of the Charity Patients—City Fathers Cannot Act Under The Present Charter But May Later.

The directors of the Oak Lawn Hospital association will appear before the common council next Monday evening and present a petition asking for an appropriation to assist in running the hospital. Several meetings of the directors have been held lately to consider the matter, and the result is told in the above sentence. It is not proposed to ask for a large sum, but the directors believe that the city can appropriate a sum sufficient to pay for the care of the charity patients, which with that received from those paying their own expenses, will be sufficient to keep the hospital open.

In presenting the petition, the directors are aware that the council cannot act affirmatively until a section of the general charter is adopted, giving the council power to appropriate money for hospital purposes. Many people are heartily in favor of this course, realizing that an institution of this sort is a public necessity, and that it is safer and far better to appropriate a small sum of money annually for its maintenance, than to rely on the uncertainty of voluntary contributions of the public.

DRANK FIFTY BARRELS OF BEER

Race Track Crowds Were Very Dry and Dusty Around the Esophagus.

More beer was sold on the track last week than during any previous meeting. Fourteen bar-tenders were employed during the week, and they managed to serve in the neighborhood of fifty barrels of beer, while pop was served by the thousand bottles, both the pop and beer being Janesville brands. When Thursday night arrived, enough money had been taken in to pay expenses, and Friday and Saturday the net receipts were velvet.

GOOD CROWDS UP THE RIVER.

Both Parks Report a Good Business Yesterday—Bands at the Resorts.

Crowds went up the river yesterday. At Crystal Springs an orchestra furnished music, while the Imperial Band was the main attraction at Mayflower Park. Aside from these the attractions were small, and most of the visitors went for a day's rest in the woods.

Fine Weather Will Continue.

Forecast: Fair tonight and Tuesday.

The temperature as recorded by S. C. Burnham & Co. during the last twenty-four hours was as follows: 7 a. m., 64 above; 1 p. m., 76 above; Max., 76 above; Min., 56 above; Wind west.

Quality Always Tells The Story.

We have on exhibition for a few days, a Henney phaeton that has seen six years of continual hard service. The rig has had but one coat of varnish since it was purchased, and any one doubting the sterling qualities of this grade of vehicles should see this buggy. F. A. Taylor.

A Scientific Answer.

An intelligent boy in the national school of a large and popular town in Lancashire on being examined, among others, by the commissioner, was asked: "Do you know any of the effects of heat and cold?"

"Yes, sir; heat expands and cold contracts."

"Good, my boy—you have answered well; now an example."

"Why, sir, the days in midsummer are the longest and in winter the shortest!"—Once a Week.

Sanitary Item.

Dr. Flower having occasion to treat the family of Sam Johnson for malaria, remonstrated with Sam for having the pig pen so near his residence.

"What's de reason I ought ter put de pig pen funder a way frum de house?" asked Sam.

"Because it is unhealthy," replied the doctor.

"Reckon you is mistaken," replied Sam; "dat pen has been dar for two years, and dar ain't been no sickness yit among de hogs."—Texas Sittings.

Foes in the Field.

Soon will the little busy bee
Improve each chance to lance
His enemy, the city boy,
Right through his outing pants.

—Truth.

A FAIR INFERENCE.

"Some people do their best work in the winter. Now I can do the clearest and most brilliant thinking when the weather is hot."

"How brilliant you will be when you die!"—Pick-Me-Up.

Willing to Apologize.

Kiljordan—Kajones, you are a gentleman. I told you a story yesterday which I now remember having told you a few weeks ago, and you took it the second time without wincing.

Kajones—I beg to assure you that I did not remember that you had ever told me the story before.

Kiljordan—Then I take back my first remark.—Chicago Tribune.

A Chance for a Dark Horse.

Sister May—I think if you should propose to Grace she would accept you.

Brother Jack (eagerly)—Do you? Has she said anything?

Sister May—No; but I know she was deeply in love with Harry Maxwell, and his engagement has just been announced.—Brooklyn Life.

His Idea of Bliss.

Ministerial Tourist (solemnly)—My friend, have you, in your sinful and ungodly life, ever enjoyed unalloyed happiness?

Alkali Ike—Look yere, stranger! Do you reckon I've lived in Oklahoma all these years and never participated in a lynchin'-bee?—Life.

Frankly Put.

"Now," said one of the campaign managers to the candidate, "to start with, you are a bimetalist."

"Excuse me; I'm a trimetalist."

"What do you mean?"

"I propose to run this campaign on gold, silver and brass."—Chicago Mail.

Practical.

Farmer Jones—What hev yer larned at yer college, son?

Son—Why, dad! I can throw the hammer further than anyone there.

Farmer Jones—That's good. I guess you'll hev no trouble in gittin' er job in er blacksmith's shop then.—Judge.

A Last Resort.

Elder Berry—Dr. Thirdly has prayed for rain until he is clear discouraged.

Mrs. Berry—What is he going to do about it?

Elder Berry—Name an early date for the Sunday school picnic.—N. Y. World.

The De Jarrs.

Mrs. De Jarr—You forget, sir, that you are married to a woman of education. I am mistress of many tongues.

Mr. De Jarr—But not of your own.—N. Y. Weekly.

Female Amenities.

"Are you going to the Browns' dance?"

"No; I haven't been asked."

"Oh—I suppose it's quite a young people's dance, you know?"—Punch.

Interchangeable.

Tom—Do you want to do me a favor, sis?

Tom's Sister—Maybe. What is it?

Tom—Lend me your bicycle costume for to-day; mine's torn.—Chicago Record.

No Cause for Anxiety.

Hotel Proprietor—What did Mrs. Jones say when she saw that woman here whom she quarreled with so much last summer?

Clerk—She tried hard to repress a smile of satisfaction.—Brooklyn Life.

His Future Destination.

Jones—Bah! I hate your pipes and cigars! I never smoked in all my life!

Smith—You'll begin when you die, though, won't you?—N. Y. World.

To Mr. Henpeck.

Oh, thankless man, pray why complain?
Has not your gain been great?
Think, you have found a captain, when
You merely sought a mate.

—Truth.

His Argument.

"Mr. Uplate," said the landlady, severely, "it is now after ten o'clock. I really cannot keep the breakfast table waiting for you so long every morning."

"Manam," replied the lazy boarder, with dignity, "if you think I am going to endanger my health by arising before the day is far enough advanced so I can tell whether I will need to put on my winter flannels or my gauze underwear, you are entirely mistaken."—Buffalo Express.

Good Grounds for Hope.

"Do you think you will be acquitted?" asked a New York gentleman of a prominent man who was indicted for bribery.

"Yes, I think so."

"Has your lawyer given you grounds to think so?"

"No," responded the hopeful client, "but I have given him grounds to think so. I've deeded him all my real estate as his fee."—Texas Sittings.

The Cheerful Idiot.

"I observe," said the musical boarder, "that a man on the south side is suing the proprietors of a boiler shop for making so much noise as to drive all his boarders away."

"I hardly think he will win," said the Cheerful Idiot. "Why didn't he get a few boarders who thought they could play the clarinet and drive the boiler shop away?"—Indianapolis Journal.

Contagious.

"Now, sir," said the professor of medicine, "you may tell me to what class of maladies insomnia belongs."

"Why—er—" replied the indolent youth, "it's a contagious disease."

"I never heard it so described. Where did you learn of this?"

"From experience. Whenever my neighbor's dog can't sleep I'm just as wakeful as he is."—Washington Star.

Making Real Progress.

Cyclist—You must be an expert rider by this time.

Pedall—Sure thing! Knocked a man down at a crossing to-day.

Cyclist—Well? I don't see the point.

Pedall—That's easy. If I hadn't been an expert rider I would have lost my nerve and dismounted.—Chicago Record.

Voyagers For Pleasure.

Or business, persons on the point of taking an "outing" on land or sea, yachtsmen and tourists need and should be provided with some preventive of sea sickness and corrective of the occasional ill effects of accustomed air, food and water. Many nervous persons experience quams akin to sea sickness when traveling by rail. They, too, require a medicinal safeguard. The best in existence is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which promptly relieves nausea, sick headache, biliousness, cramps and colic, &c. If business calls you to some locality where chills and fever or bilious remittents are prevalent, don't fail to provide yourself with it. For constipation, rheumatism and inactivity of the kidneys it is an excellent remedy. Eminent physicians commend it highly. Lay in a supply before you start by boat, steamer or train. It is a most serviceable traveling companion.

If the Baby is Cutting Teeth.

Be sure and use that old and well tried remedy, "Winn's Soothing Syrup for children teething." It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Cholera morbus is a dangerous complaint, and often is fatal in its results. To avoid this you should use DeWitt's Colic & Cholera Cure, as soon as the first symptom's appear. C. D. Stevens.

TITLES ARE OFTEN CLOUDY.

London "World" Explains the Origin of Bogus Noblemen

The London "World" in an article on foreign "nobility" says: In France it is extremely difficult to draw a hard-and-fast line between those titles which are genuine and those which are not. The utmost which can be done is to classify them as "old," "new," and "doubtful." This uncertainty clearly opens a road to the adventurer. He must take care not to assume too high a rank or to adopt a name which is too well known or already belongs to some historic family. But if he is content to name himself after some orchard in Perigord or Anjou and to style himself no more than Baron or Viscount he may almost defy exposure, even though he do not escape suspicion. In Italy there is a well-defined list of old Roman, Neapolitan, Piedmontese, and Tuscan families. But there is also the consideration that it is not so many years ago that the minor grades of nobility might be obtained by purchase. The republic of San Marino raises a regular revenue by the sale of titles which possess a very apparent Italian origin. In Austria up to quite recently the rank of Baron was sold to all who would pay the price. In the minor states of Germany and in Prussia, before the formation of the German empire, a very considerable proportion of the creations of the present century were purchased. The innumerable Jewish barons, with curious hybrid names, which are found all over Western Europe, are the result of "transfers" by needy monarchs to wealthy financiers. In Belgium and Holland the same practice has prevailed to a greater or smaller extent, and the little republic of Andorra still drives a continuous trade in patents of nobility. Even the grandeeship of Spain has been recruited with self-made men by this means. In order, therefore, to differentiate the real head of an existing family from his needy cousin who lives by his wits, and both from the adventurer who has made a fortune by successful swindling and adopted a title of his own free will as a social passport, it might be necessary to search through many ponderous tomes which only a skilled genealogist would know where to find and how to use.

VENTILATION OF MILLS.

Some Important Factors Necessary to Successful Effort.

Attention has lately been called to the necessity, in arrangements for the ventilation of mills, of a careful study of the meteorology of the district—the extreme range of temperature and of relative humidity being important factors both in dry and wet seasons. The maximum range on any day is important, also, to be known, and likewise the rate at which humidity in the air may vary in a working day, the fact being that there are scarcely two consecutive half hours in the day when the atmosphere is in the same condition; that is, it may be in a perfect state for spinning and weaving at one time, and four hours later may have only one-third of the necessary amount of moisture required for the purpose of manufacture. Again, the difference in the readings of two thermometers, wet and dry, is due to the rate of evaporation of water from muslin tied around one bulb; if the air is very dry, the evaporation is rapid and the cooling is in proportion, or, if the air is moist, evaporation is retarded, and when the air is saturated, as during a fog, evaporation stops, and, as there is no cooling effect on the wet bulb, both thermometers will read alike. It appears that some "humidifiers" that have done well in England have been failures in India. The mean differences of temperature of the air in India and in England is, roughly, 30 degrees F., so that, comparing the amount of water required to saturate air at 62 and at 92, at the higher temperature it takes just 2.65 times as much water for the purpose in India as in England.

PSYCHOLOGICALLY CONSIDERED

His Will Was Congenitally Feeble—Was a Wretched Man.

The anti-vivisectionists sometimes horrify us by describing the poison which paralyzes all the active powers of the body, while leaving the sensibilities untouched. Coleridge offers a study of that kind to psychologists, says the National Review. His will, no doubt, was congenitally feeble. "Indolence capable of energies," as he says in a remarkable passage of early self-portraiture, was characteristic of his whole appearance. He could absorb enormous masses of reading and write or speak with amazing fluency, but the energy could not be co-ordinated or concentrated. It flowed hither and thither spontaneously along the channels dictated by the dominant feeling of the moment. As psychologists phrase it, he had lost his power of "inhibition." He could not suppress or restrain his emotions. He valued metaphysical research, as he says in his pathetic ode, because, "Haply by abstruse research to steal From my own nature all the natural man," was his "sole resource, his only plan." He could distract his mind from one pursuit by another, but could not force his energies to converge upon a single or distant aim. Painful emotions were evaded, instead of being met face to face. When he heard suddenly at Malta of John Wordsworth's death he tried to stagger out of a public room, and before he reached the door fell to the floor in a convulsive hysteric fit and was ill for a fortnight. He then declared that he was unable to open any letters lest they should bring news of the death of one of his children. The intensity of his feelings paralyzed instead of stimulating his powers. "Vexations and preying on the spirit," he says, "pluck out the wing feathers of the mind." He is like a criminal upon the wheel, held down not by chains but by impotence of will, feeling every blow with singular intensity, but only capable of meeting it by shutting his eyes as long as possible or trying to distract his mind by puzzling over the problems most remote from practical application.

BY BALLOON TO NORTH POLE.

Frenchmen Talk of Undertaking Such an Expedition.

Approaches to the north pole by means of a balloon have often been mooted, says the New York Times. If the extreme north is to be reached it probably never will be accomplished otherwise than by a passage in mid-air. This time the aeronaut is a Frenchman and it really looks as if the attempt would be made. June 5, at a meeting of the Academy of Sciences in Paris, M. Faye reported favorably on a project of reaching the north pole by means of a balloon. The commission of examination was composed of M. Daubree, Blanchard and Faye, all well known as scientific men. The report made was that M. Andre, an aeronaut, had carefully studied the whole subject. M. Faye stated that the project of reaching the pole by means of a balloon was by no means novel. The belief that there was an interior sea in close proximity to the pole has long been entertained. We are also told to think that the point of extreme cold is not at the pole. The base of approach was to be at Spitzbergen and if the balloon were to ascend from some favorable point there, taking advantage of the air currents, the pole might be reached in forty-eight hours. In July a study of the air currents at Spitzbergen indicated a slow velocity in the one direction and toward the pole. The wind never blows with violence. The daylight is pretty nearly continuous. The distance from some points of Spitzbergen to the pole was about 8 degrees. In fact, the distance to be run over by the balloon was about the same as if France had to be traversed. If two or three days were taken by the aerial voyage that time would quite suffice.

The Use of Peat.

The peat-bed is the embryo coal field. If peat-beds could remain undisturbed, they would, in time, be transformed into mineral coal. They are composed of the roots of plants which grow very rapidly, interlacing and matting themselves until they are almost like a solid mass. These roots die out below, but the top layers are the crowns from which the new growth springs every year. Naturally when they have remained for a long time unmolested, the layer of roots becomes enormously thick. Peat is used in almost all of the countries of Europe for fuel. Recent investigations by the Department of State assure us that the cultivation of this plant and its utilization would be of the greatest advantage to the poor who have to depend upon coal for heating purposes. When peat is dug by those who understand its value, the top layer is taken off and carefully put aside. The root growth is then cut out and the sod is replaced and pressed down to be ready for growth the next season. It is often the case that under the top layers there will be found a quantity of root-stalks, leaves, and sometimes trunks of trees. This becomes quite solid and is called peat-fiber. Below this there is a black, pitchy compound that in some instances, when it has long been in position, may be cut smoothly, showing a surface almost like wax. This is the most valuable part of the peat, and gives out a tremendous heat and a good deal of black smoke. Peat bogs must be drained and carefully managed in order to yield the best results. Peat is cut out in blocks, and is sometimes pressed or molded into shape.

Intelligence of Animals.

Many efforts have been made to teach animals to discriminate and distinguish objects; also to count and select certain words or letters when told to do so. One of the professors in the Zoological Garden in London set about teaching a chimpanzee various branches of knowledge. After a long time he succeeded in making it count from one up to six. The creature would take six pieces of straw and hand them out to his teacher as they were counted. After he passed the number six he became confused and seemed unable to grasp any further ideas. The creature could distinguish white from colors, but could not tell one color from another.

SMUGGLED GLOVES.

Oregon Postal Officials Find Them in Packages of Papers.

Officials connected with the Postoffice Department of this city have discovered a neat attempt to swindle the United States Government by smuggling kid gloves into this city and escaping the payment of duties. Some time since a sudden increase in the newspaper mail between Hong Kong, China, and this city became apparent, says the Portland Oregonian. It was surmised that certain persons had become interested in the Japan-China war and were being supplied with newspapers containing full accounts of the war's progress, and the first lot of papers was delivered without question. Last Saturday there was another batch of papers received, many of them being addressed to women in the city, and the suspicions of the postoffice authorities were aroused. Collector Black, of the customs service, was informed of the suspicious nature of the packages, and thirteen of them were turned over to his custody for investigation. It is required, when the postal officials have cause to think that the mails are being used for the purpose of smuggling contraband goods, that the package under suspicion must be given to the Collector of Customs, and the party to whom the same is addressed must open the same in the presence of the customs officials for inspection. On Saturday a woman to whom a number of apparent newspapers had been sent called at the Custom House to receive the same from the Collector if they passed inspection after being opened and examined. Within the folds of the papers two pairs of kid gloves were found, and examination of other bundles resulted in similar finds. The gloves were all confiscated by the Collector, and will be sold at auction in due time.

The woman stated to the Collector that she had an idea who sent the gloves, but she refused to disclose any names, and there is no law to compel her to do so. Neither can the party sending the gloves be molested, and the only thing that the Government can do is to seize the goods. The gloves are of ordinary make, coming in a variety of shades, but those who have been receiving presents from such sources will find the supply of gloves now cut off, as every package of papers will be inspected. The duty on kid gloves is 50 per cent of the value at port of importation, and in amount the money which the Government has lost is a trifle.
